

Elisabeth and Amélie Fund

Scholarships Elisabeth & Amélie Fund

Theme: “Access to water, protection or improvement of water quality and water management in developing countries”

Selection criteria

1. Objective. The internship is linked to the access to water or its management in developing countries and take place either as part of a final year project (FYP) or a course worth at least 15 credits. It must be an individual project.
2. Pertinence. The work undertaken by the candidate at local level and the results that emanate from this, deal with important local issues.
3. Capabilities. The budget requested must match the candidate’s needs. He/She must have sufficient resources to complete the internship under the required conditions.
4. Originality. The approach chosen by the candidate for his internship or the framework within which he is going to work have an innovative side. They are, in a certain way, different from the usual approaches or frameworks.
5. Impact. What will be realized during the internship brings real added value to the scientific approach that supports the end of year thesis.

